Dear Readers,

It is heartening to see that in the last quarter, our children participated in many external events such as sports, arts ,yoga etc.

Many of them were recognized by winning prizes and awards.

However, the real benefit was their interaction with other children and the outside world.

In the process their communication and social skills improved. Many of them showed enhanced levels of personal confidence.

This was a learning for us, so much so that we shall try to find more opportunities to foster meaningful engagement with the external world, for all of our children.

The newsletter gives details about these and other activities of the Center.

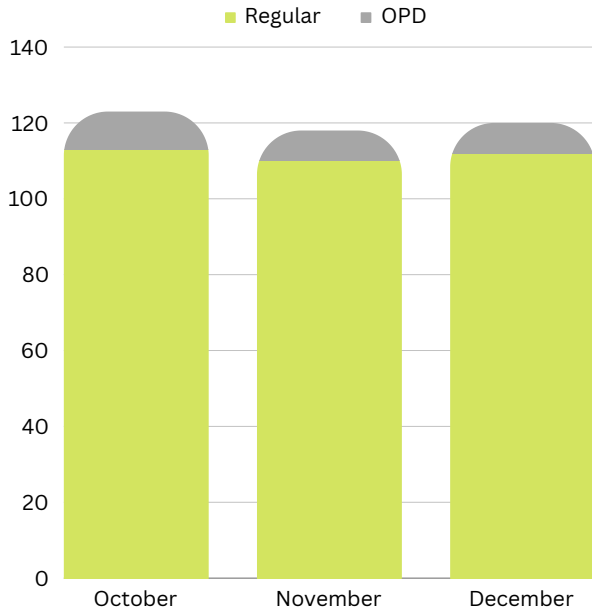

I hope the contents will motivate you to join us in this transformative journey of our special children, support our cause and strengthen our hands to make them more self-reliant.

Happy Reading !

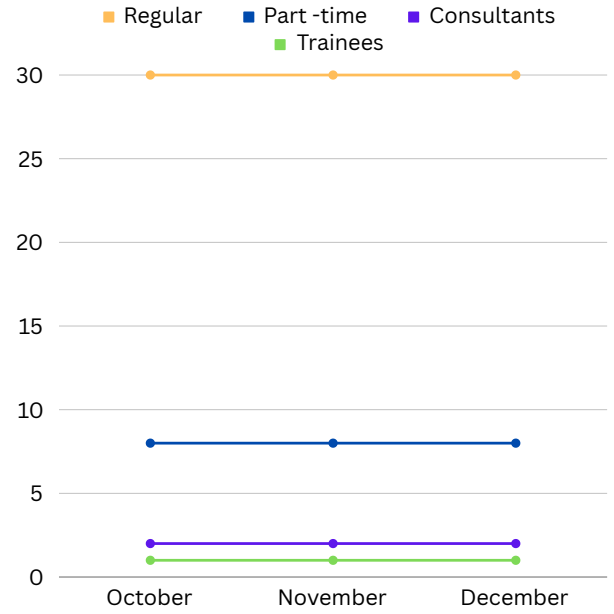

With best wishes,
Rakesh Jinsi
